

Heat Complaints – Renters

Categories : Energy Assistance/Utilities, Housing

The material provided on the 211 eLibrary is for informational purposes only. It is not intended to be and should not be construed as legal advice.

What are the Requirements for Heat in Rentals?

Section 19a-109 of the Connecticut General Statutes establishes a minimum temperature of 65 degrees Fahrenheit for a building occupied as a home or place of residence. This requirement applies throughout the year. The CTLawHELP.org website, created by Connecticut's Legal Aid programs, offers an article titled "Utility Problems With Landlords", which explains your rights and what you can do to get your landlord meet his/her obligation under the law.

To Find Providers in Connecticut's Community Resources Database:

Search by service names:

- Public Health Information/Inspection/Remediation
- Landlord/Tenant Assistance
- Law Enforcement Agencies

SOURCES: Energy and Utility Problems with Landlords © CTLAWHelp.org

PREPARED BY: 211/ch

CONTENT LAST REVIEWED: November2022