

Licensed Practical Nursing Programs (LPN) - Connecticut

Categories : Education

All LPN programs require a high school diploma or GED, an interview and an entrance examination.

How to Find LPN Training Programs

- The Connecticut Department of Public Health, Department of Practitioner Licensing lists State Approved Practical Nurse Programs on their website:
(<https://portal.ct.gov/DPH/Public-Health-Hearing-Office/Board-of-Examiners-for-Nursing/Approved-Practical-Nurse-Education-Programs>)
For further information, call DPH at 860-509-7590.

Cost of Training:

- LPN training offered by the private training schools costs vary. Financial aid is available.

SOURCES: Connecticut State Department of Public Health
PREPARED BY: 211/pt
CONTENT LAST REVIEWED: November2018